

Toxics Link
for a toxics-free world

Quotes from the Earth- Traveling film festival on environment in Coimbatore(15/Feb/ 2008)

Quotes from the Earth- the first ever-traveling film festival on environment by Toxics Link will be inaugurated in Coimbatore on February 15. Quotes from the Earth a bi-annual event by Toxics Link now takes countrywide tour to share the key environmental issues with the public and disseminate information on environment. The films, from India and abroad as well, have the focus on increasing water scarcity and declining eco system across the planet.

While 'Point Calimere' tells the pathos of migratory birds due to the shrinking greenery across a coastal stretch in Tamilnadu 'The Green Agony' takes the viewer to the Sundarbans, which fights a deadly battle to stay afloat in the rising sea. When 'Thirsty planet' narrates the agony of billions of people who have no access to clean drinking water, the Journey presents positive story of a century old water conservation method in a remote desert village in Rajasthan where rain fall is rare.

Dr Neeraj Mittal IAS ,Coimbatore district collector will inaugurate the screening. S Kannan, additional Commissioner-Customs will preside. The day long screening will have a panel discussion on the issues cast in the films.

Date : 15/ Feb/2008

Venue: D Block Conference Hall, PSG campus Peelamedu, Coimbatore

Time : 10 am to 5 pm